

BEER GLASSES USED IN FIGHT

Enemies of Long Standing Meet in Saloon and Engage in Battle.

RIVALS FOR SAME WOMAN

STORY INVOLVES LOVE, INFIDELITY AND VENGEANCE.

Don Cowan, a fireman employed by the Salt Lake Route, and Len Cottrell, a street car conductor, became involved in a battle in which beer glasses were used, in the Continental bar last evening, and both received several severe cuts. Cowan and two inches long. Cottrell's right hand was severely cut in three or four places by broken glass. Both men have been bitter enemies for several years and each has declared his intention of killing the other. They met last evening shortly after 7 o'clock in the Continental bar, at the corner of First South and West Temple streets, and immediately started to fight.

The row is one of long standing, originating about six years ago, when both young men were rivals for the affection of one girl, Miss May Edgar. Cowan proved to be the winner, and the couple were married about five years ago. Cottrell left the city soon afterwards and went to Nevada, where he remained for several years. Cowan and his wife were living happily and all was well, for several years.

About a year ago Cottrell returned to the city and met his old sweetheart on the street. They were together a great deal of the time, it is said. The wife finally left her husband for her old sweetheart, it is declared, and now Cowan declares he will never rest until he has revenge on the man who stole his wife.

Cowan says that Cottrell broke up his home and caused his wife to desert him and his children.

Cottrell has nothing to say about the affair and will not talk.

Cowan's injuries were dressed at the Emergency hospital by Jailer Ripley. Dr. Paul was sent for, but it was found that Cottrell had gone to the doctor's office and was having his wounds dressed, making it impossible for the doctor to leave.

Neither one of the men made any complaint to the police and no arrest was made.

FOR LOWER POSTAL RATES

Reduction on Matter to Great Britain and Ireland Will Become Effective Soon.

The announcement that the rate of postage on mail matter to Great Britain and Ireland will be reduced will be of interest to a large number of people in Utah, where reside a great many who have relatives and friends in those countries, especially in England.

No official notification has yet been received by the local postoffice as to the date when the new rule will go into effect, but the understanding is that it will begin on the first day of October, just one month hence.

The new order brings the rate of postage between the two nations down to the basis on which domestic mail matter is now handled. The rate will be 2 cents an ounce or fractional part thereof. The former rate was known as the universal rate and was 5 cents for the first ounce and 3 cents for each additional ounce.

SEEKS TO CHANGE PRESENT SYSTEM

Council Dissatisfied With War-rant Plan of Public Improvement Assessments.

COSTLY AND CUMBERSOME

WILL ASK LEGISLATURE TO MAKE RADICAL CHANGE.

An effort will be made by the council to induce the next legislature to make a radical change in the laws regulating the system of assessing property for public improvements.

The present city administration has reached the conclusion that the present laws are cumbersome and most unsatisfactory in that because of the difficulty experienced in disposing of public improvement warrants, the contractors charge from 2 to 10 per cent more for the work than they would if they were paid in cash. It will be recommended that some scheme be devised whereby cash payments may be made and several plans have been considered.

Under the present system as soon as the work is completed the contractor is given permanent improvement warrants which run for a period of ten years in case of paving and five years for sidewalks and other improvements. The property owner has the option of paying this assessment when the work is completed or in ten equal installments, the latter method bearing interest at 6 per cent. At the end of any yearly period he may pay the whole amount remaining due if he so desires and thus avoid additional interest. When the money is paid in it is turned over to the holder of the warrant.

Because of this system those desiring long time investments do not care to both the warrants as they are secured as called in at any time by the property owner paying up in full. In addition to this, if at the end of the ten-year period in the case of paving the holder must institute suit against the delinquent property owners, the warrants giving him a lien on the property affected to a depth of twenty-five feet from the property line.

Warrants are Discounted.

Most of the warrants are sold by contractors soon as they are secured at discounts varying from 5 to 10 per cent and this is added to the cost of the work when bids are submitted in the first instance.

The statutes contain a provision that if the council desires it may issue district paving bonds, payable in ten years and bearing not to exceed 6 per cent interest. These bonds may be sold and cash secured with which to pay the contractors as soon as the work is finished. The assessment levied against property owners will then be paid to and held by the city as a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds at the end of the ten-year period and the city would be liable for any failure of the property owners to pay the full amount of the assessment. This law is considered ideal in many respects but it cannot be made use of as it is provided that these bonds are to be considered part of the bonded indebtedness of the city. The law is also uncertain in that it does not make the bonds a lien on the abutting property.

The proposed plan is to ask the legislature to repeal the proviso which make district paving bonds a part of the bonded indebtedness of the city and to make such bonds a lien on the abutting property, thus adding additional security to the investor.

Another Plan Suggested.

Another method of handling this problem suggested is to have the city issue $300,000 worth of bonds, the money to be placed in what should be known as a permanent improvement revolving fund. When work is done the contractor would be paid in cash out of this fund and the bonds redeemed by the property owners. The interest on deferred payments would more than pay the interest on the bonds themselves and a sinking fund would be automatically created.

All the plans proposed are along these lines and it is assumed some decisive action will be taken when the legislature meets, as the present system is declared to be burdensome and almost intolerable on account of the "red tape" and inconvenience involved in working it out.

SOLDIERS SOON TO RETURN

Fifteenth Infantry Will Reach Fort Douglas Wednesday, After Maneuvers in Wyoming.

"Bookies," who have run things at Fort Douglas for a month past, will have to retire from the center of the stage tomorrow, when the soldiers of the Fifteenth regiment will return to the post.

The troops will leave Dale Creek, Wyo., today. It is understood that they will break camp at the maneuvering grounds in Wyoming early this morning, and will march to Dale Creek, whence the start for Salt Lake will be made as soon as the men and baggage are properly stowed away in the two sections of the military train. The line of the arrival of the soldiers tomorrow will depend upon the time of their departure from Dale Creek today.

There will be thirty-six cars in the two sections of the train. There will be three train cars, four passenger cars, three baggage cars, six stock cars for the horses, seven flat cars for the regimental baggage and three box cars.

On reaching Salt Lake the soldiers will unload their baggage from the train and then march through the city to Fort Douglas.

HEMPEL HOME AGAIN.

Police Lieutenant Returns After Trip to East.

"Uncle John" Hempel, first lieutenant of police, who arrived home Sunday evening after a month's trip to New York and several other eastern cities, appeared at the station Monday morning and reported for duty. While in the east Hempel visited Boston, Chicago and several small towns in New Jersey. Later he went to Portland, Me., where he met his two brothers, whom he had not seen in many years. Both the brothers are sea captains.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

In an opinion handed down by the supreme court yesterday the decision of the district court of Weber county is reversed in the case of Sarah Williams Christensen, appellant, against Susan Williams, respondent. The action was brought to set aside a deed and the lower court held with the defendant. The appeal was taken on the ground that the evidence did not justify the findings below and this contention is upheld by the supreme court. The opinion was written by Chief Justice McCarty and is concurred in by the other justices.

ANOTHER ECHO OF SHEETS CASE

Forged Check From Leadville Bears the Endorsement of W. W. Bell.

BUNCO MAN IN NEW ROLE

SHERIFF FRANK EMERY WIRES FOR HIS ARREST.

From Leadville comes the latest echo of the famed Sheets case. The echo was a check to which the name of Harry J. Robinson was forged. The check bears the endorsement of W. W. Bell, the card sharp, on whose confession the prosecution of former Chief of Police George A. Sheets on a charge of accepting a bribe was based. The check is believed to have been forged by J. K. Castle, also a familiar figure in the criminal circles of Salt Lake. Sheriff C. Frank Emery last night wired the Leadville police asking them to arrest Castle and Bell.

Castle came to Salt Lake two years ago, and after leaving a trail of forged checks about town, he was arrested. He was kept in the county jail for a long time, awaiting trial, and was finally given a jail sentence of six months. This he completed a short time ago. Before leaving town he said he was going to Kansas City to join Congress and was released last spring after testifying against Sheets.

After his release, however, Bell was arrested in Kansas City for swindling and served a short jail sentence.

Shortly before leaving Salt Lake Castle forged the name of Harry J. Robinson to a check for $25. An effort was made to reach Castle in Kansas City at the time, but he could not be found. Yesterday morning the Commercial National bank received a check from Leadville purporting to have been drawn by Harry J. Robinson and made payable to W. W. Bell. Mr. Robinson informed the bank, the check was a forged and notified the sheriff.

FRUIT MEN TO MEET.

State Board of Horticulture Will Discuss Exhibit.

There will be a meeting today of the state board of horticulture, at which ideas for improving Utah's exhibit at the coming international congress at Albuquerque, N. M., will be discussed.

Thomas Judd of St. George, president of the board, who went to Albuquerque a short time ago, has wired that he is on his way to Salt Lake and he is expected at today's meeting.

All of the trophies won by Utah at meetings of the irrigation congress in the past year will be gathered together and placed in a large case for exhibition at Albuquerque, N. M., at the opening of the irrigation congress there on Sept. 28, according to a plan which Fred J. Kessel now has under consideration. Mr. Kessel, who has taken an active part in raising the fund necessary for the defraying of the expense of gathering Utah's exhibit together this year, proposes to take the nine silver cups valued at about $200 which are now at the Commercial club, and the other trophies scattered about the state, which would make a total of about eighteen.

CUP IN PARADE.

McBurney Trophy Will Arrive From East Tonight.

A second telegram received from John Bern states that he will arrive with the McBurney cup tonight on the Los Angeles Limited at 7:35 o'clock. He will be met by the thirty boys who won the certificates and their four teachers, and also representative officers of the local Y. M. C. A. The trophy will be escorted by the winners in the Seeing Salt Lake City automobile to an uptown depository. The members of the local Y. M. C. A. will celebrate the victory next Saturday night, but the entire city will have an opportunity to see the cup in the parade on Monday.

According to present plans, three floats will be in the second division of the line of march. Two will represent the physical department and its work, while the third will bear the cup winners and their international trophies.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Michael Donald and Percy Peterson, charged with burglary in the third degree, were before Justice of the Peace Dana Smith Monday afternoon and entered pleas of not guilty. Their case will come up for trial before Judge Smith Wednesday afternoon. The two men are charged with having broken into the warehouse of Cornforth & Pond at 27 South Main street and stealing a quantity of glassware.

Joseph King was arrested by Patrolman Curran Monday on the charge of stealing a bicycle from a Greek living at 131 South Fifth West street, which he had taken to Frank Crockett, manager of the World Messenger company. King says he did not steal the bicycle, but as he cannot explain to the police how he secured possession he was locked up and charged with petit larceny.

WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

Ida A. McCleery Secures Decree on Ground of Cruelty.

Judge Morse yesterday granted Ida A. McCleery a divorce from William H. McCleery. They were married at West Jordan July 24, 1888, and have five children, four of whom are of age. The action was based on a charge of cruelty made by the wife.

Mrs. McCleery told Judge Morse that on Nov. 1, 1907, her husband told her that if she got her deserts some one would poison her and that shortly afterwards he threatened to knock her down. Last March, when her daughter Deseret was sick in bed, he told her to clear out.

With the divorce Mrs. McCleery secured the custody of the one minor child.

YOUNG'S QUARRIES LEASED

Eldredge and Howard Will Develop Building Stone Deposits in Emigration Canyon.

Georg W. Eldredge, the architect, and W. C. Howard, have leased Le Grande Young's stone quarries in Emigration canyon. Mr. Howard has already taken charge of the management of the quarries.

The lease will not affect the control of the quarries which Mr. Young has built to the quarries, which remains under the direction of Mr. Young.

Messrs. Eldredge and Howard will probably organize a company to take charge of the operations at the quarries.

Mr. Howard said that the Emigration Canyon railroad would be able to haul stone to Salt Lake about Thursday or Friday.

The stone with which the Lion House was built, Mr. Eldredge said, was taken from the Young quarries in Emigration canyon.

Efforts are being made to induce the engineers in charge of the new Oregon Short Line depot to use stone from the canyon quarries in the construction of the big passenger station.
